

Sales Manager Southern Europe

Esthec® is a rapidly growing business that has been the wake up call of the yacht industry. Esthec® produces and sells a patented, ecologically sound, composite decking material of the same name. Our innovative, world wide operating company exists for just a couple of years now, but the interest in the exclusive possibilities is mind blowing. More and more, Esthec®'s potential takes a prominent place in the hearts of yacht builders, both small boats and mega yachts, designers and end users.

Who we are looking for

Due to this continuous success, we are looking for an ambitious colleague for the position of

who will, just like the current team, cross every ocean and climb every mountain to increase Esthec®'s market share in the international market. Your focus will be on Southern Europe.

To not miss the boat to join Esthec®, you are/you have:

- young, enthusiastic and open minded.
- an independent entrepreneur.
- internationally oriented.
- a traveller in heart and soul. Travelling to different countries does not discourage you. On the contrary, it is a joy to and a challenge for you.
- good English and Italian language skills; speaking other foreign languages would be a plus
- good communication skills; you like to talk and when you do, it is comfortable, convincing and enthusiastic.

What we have to offer

Esthec® was founded by a Dutch specialist in resin synthetics and therefore Esthec® enjoys 45 years of specialism and experience. Partly due to our short existence, but mainly due to our believe in personal talent, Esthec® will offer you the following:

- an excellent future; good opportunities to grow into the future.
- freedom to approach the market by practicing your personal ideas
- complete involvement in creating a leading position of Esthec® in Southern Europe
- an innovative, prominent company
- variety of work
- strategy focussed on world wide expansion

Application

If the information above makes you believe that you can support us with your qualities, please send your letter of application and your CV to info@esthec.com, to the attention of Mr M. van der Spek.
