

A jewel of a floor

Bolidtop® Jewel is the latest development in the field of flooring by Bolidt. It is a seamless flooring finish, in which functionality and aesthetics are well-matched. The finish contains a number of ingredients that warrant the designation "a jewel of a floor".

The system has a three-dimensional effect to some extent, as a result of the combination of the crystal-clear transparent base material and a tinge of inhomogeneous mother-of-pearl that has been worked into the system. The application technique that has been purpose-developed for this system provides a contemporary ambience. The finish is visually rich and as a standard is available in a matt version. Due to its viscous-elastic quality it is highly suitable for busy foot traffic.

On the initiative of Dutch architect Jan des Bouvrie and the British retail group Selfridges, independently, this flooring has previously been sought after in a gloss finish. The special effect of the mother-of-pearl is even more visible in this version. Meanwhile, 15,000 m² at Selfridges has been covered with Bolidtop® Jewel. The electronics and book department of this department store do well by it.

Every single one of the 18 colours that Bolidtop® Jewel is available in, is named after a jewel. The names of the colours include Sapphire, Opal, Jade, Malachite and Lapis, to name a few.

Because of its pore-free finish Bolidtop® Jewel is easy to clean and maintain. Despite its smoothness the system has good antiskid properties. The flooring system is based on a mixture of high-quality solvent-free polymers that feel soft once they have set.

The development of Bolidtop® Jewel has its origins in the Bolidroom, Bolidt's design lab. Visitors of this lab are given a free rein to realize their design dream in synthetics (www.bolidroom.nl).

Bolidtop® Jewel: functionality and aesthetics well-matched.

Bolidtop® Jewel is part of Bolidtop® Design flooring. This flooring series has been developed for public spaces, to which the architect wants to lend a contemporary appearance. Bolidtop® FiftyFifty, Bolidtop® Sensation and Bolidtop® Print are also part of this range.
